

YOU CAN SEND KIDS TO SCHOOL IN THE DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF CONGO!

School buses are back on the roads and kids are back to school everywhere we look.

Children in the Democratic Republic of Congo should be back to school too, but that is not an option for many this year. Thousands are struggling with the loss of family members from the current Ebola outbreak. These losses have far-reaching consequences, including not being able to afford school supplies and fees.

YOU CAN HELP

You can join us right now and help send children in the Congo back to school, providing a sense of normalcy to the children who have lost so much. Your contributions will go directly to families in need and help reduce the stigma associated with surviving family members.

$600 can send 10 CHILDREN
to school for a year

$5,000 will provide 85 FAMILIES
with new bedding

$1,000 can provide 20 CHILDREN
with school supplies

$10,000 can provide 300 FAMILIES
with everyday essentials

Please visit our website at imaworldhealth.org/backtoschool to find out how you can make a difference!

Pray for those affected by the outbreak and for all who are working to respond to stop its spread.

THANK YOU for helping our neighbors in need around the world!
